

CRIPPS MISSION (MARCH 1942)

The important points made by the Cripps Mission were as follows:

- (a) General elections in the provinces would be arranged as soon as the war ended.
- (b) A new Indian dominion, associated with the United Kingdom, would be created.
- (c) Those provinces not joining the dominion could form their own separate union.
- (d) Minorities were to be protected.
- (e) Provision for forming the Constitution making body.

However, both the Congress and the Muslim League rejected these proposals. Jinnah opposed the plan, as it did not concede Pakistan.
